SKIN, SCALP AND BLOOD

Diseases Cured by Cuticura Remedies When Hot Springs, Doctors and All Other Medicines Fail.

Having been a sufferer for seven years and a half from disease commonly called by the doctors Lupus, and having been troubled by the most loathsome and painful sores on the face and limbs, I felt it my duty to try Cuticura Remedies, which I did. I visited Hot Springs to no avail, and tried several doctors, though unknown, and at last gave up hope. Members of my family and friends (to whom I shall ever feel grateful) spoke to me about Cuticura and I consented to give them a trial with the result that I am perfectly cured. There is now no sore about me. I think I can show the largest surface where my sufferings sprang from of any one in the state. The Cuticura Remedies are the best blood and skin cures manufactured. (Signed) Dr. Dugdale, John F. Fay and Jno. D. Montgomery, both of this place, and to Dr. Smith of Lake View, Minn.

ALEXANDER BEACH, Greenville, Miss.

Mr. Beach used the Cuticura Remedies at our request with the above result, and we endorse it.

SCROFULA 7 YEARS CURED.

I have been for 7 years with scrof in seven years which first started a running sore on head, giving me little rest day or night. Physicians treated, but I grew worse and was unable to close my mouth until I found your Cuticura Remedies. One box Cuticura, one cake Cuticura Soap and one bottle Cuticura Resolvent completely cured me, and my skin is as fair as ever. I have also used them in my family for other diseases with perfect success. I LAVEL, Attica, Last Alice Co., Cal.

SKIN DISEASE 5 YEARS CURED.

Your Cuticura Remedies did wonders in curing me. I have not only skin disease, but kidney trouble of five years standing, after having a lot of doctors had been up to trying to cure me. Nothing did me any good until I procured the use of the Cuticura Remedies. Our house will ever be without them.

Crown Prince Rudolph Shot by One of His Gamesters.

SUICIDE OF HIS YOUNG PARAMOUR

The Prince Ended the Tragedy by Sending a Bullet Through His Brain

A LIFE RIFLE FOR THE EMPEROR

Secret and Intimate at the Imperial Palace and Court of Austria Great Crowds View Remains

LONDON Feb 5 The Mansion on ground out by the Daily News says that he believes that the following story of Crown Prince Rudolph's death is the true one

On Tuesday morning last a servant of the name of Loschek with whom the Prince had been drinking and playing cards the night before went to the Prince's bedroom to call him as usual. Receiving no answer to his knock he entered the room only to find the Prince lying dead in bed. At midnight, while he, Loschek, had been playing cards, he says, the Prince complained of feeling unwell and sent him to his own room. Loschek had scarcely fallen asleep when a loud report aroused him. He sprang out of bed and ran to the Prince's room. Finding the door locked he knocked loudly on the door. The window was open and a man jumped out and fled. The servant ran to the Prince who fell into his arms. He had been shot in the shoulder. He was recognized as the crown prince and the first words he said were "help me." Loschek then ran into the gamekeeper's house. He says that he thought Rudolph was dead, but quickly took a small flask from her breast, drank a little from it and revived. He was then taken by the servant into the castle. His valet then undressed him and put him to bed. Rudolph and Loschek only lived in sure the construction of dams in streams in which fish are found to have properly constructed fishways over them, also rigidly to enforce the law prohibiting the throwing of sawdust into streams

Last year the commission did some excellent work in enforcing the law relating to the close season of salmon, and in its management of the Clackamas hatchery The fishing in the try ranks third in importance and the state can afford to be liberal in providing means for its protection

Messrs I N Hall P P Thompson and R B Carpenter, who compose the present commission are very popular and having been inaugurated he were they will likely be re-elected for the coming four years so that they may continue

Upper on motion of Mr Merrill which was adopted in the house this morning reads as follow

Whereas The immense annual run on or known as the American River the principal source of the supply of the Sacramento valley salmon which has been for many years the subject of artificial propagation, already so stocked with the eggs and young animals for the use of many and of the many of the fine game fishes as to be apparently under close practical

PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, FEB. 6.

VIGOROUS MEASURES RECOMMENDED

Just what is best to be done to break up the piratical business of those who entice or take sailors from ships and then make the ships pay enormously for necessary men it is not easy to determine But we have no doubt of the disposition of the legislature to make enactments that will, as far as possible, prevent this abuse, or at least put a check upon it. We present to-day a memorandum of a bill that has been submitted to the senate and house committees on commerce which can be commended as a product of much inquiry and experience We think this bill would as nearly meet the case as any that could be adopted

The facility with which warrants may be sworn out against seamen as absconding debtors by these robbers of commerce lies at the bottom of great part of the abuses Other states have been obliged to pass laws exempting sailors from arrest as absconding debtors, and we shall not strike at the main root of this evil till we do the same We quote the following from the law of Massachusetts

No seaman or mariner who has shipped or entered into a contract for a voyage from any port in this commonwealth, shall be liable to arrest on account of a debt or obligation to a landlord or boarding house keeper, nor shall a landlord or boarding house keeper have a lien on or detain his wearing apparel or other property of such seaman or mariner, or hinder, obstruct or delay him in the performance of such contract, under a penalty of not more than $200 nor less than $100.

The bill recommended to the legislature of of Oregon is even more explicit. We quote

No officer or seaman of a sea going vessel or ship shall be arrested or imprisoned for debt and any officer executing a process of arrest for debt upon such officer or seaman shall upon conviction thereof before any justice of the peace or circuit court be fined in a sum not less than $20 nor more than $100.

This will deprive the crimp and boarding house pirate of one of the favorite instruments and methods of his trade He now makes the law in auxiliary of his trade of robbery It should be wrested from him Again it is not only proper, but altogether necessary to forbid any person not acting in an official cap city to board or attempt to board any vessel not engaged in carrying passengers for hire, without the consent first obtained of the captain or officer in charge Increased vigilance in enforcement of the proposed act is likely to be secured by the provision making it the duty of the municipal authorities of the cities of Portland and Astoria to assist in enforcing it We trust this bill, substantially in the form in which it is presented will become a law

THE COMING INAUGURAL

Heartlessly ignoring the protest of outdoor plans proone the inaugural committee has gone on perfecting plans for decorating the grand hall of the pension office for the inaugural ball There will be carved eagles trimmed with fringe cords of arms of all the states and nations painted in oil garlands of laurel and panels of choice flowers while from the dome in the center of the ceiling will be super added a chandelier of ice All this notwithstanding the fact that there is no doubt a great deal of the feelings of those who profess a desire to start in the old old days when the president elect rode to and from his home on horseback and the inaugural took place without waiting to get his boots blacked or to clear the March mud from his clothes took the oath of office and returned home to dine

Upon the whole congress is going to start out with a brilliant success. It has left god the matter to arrange for the [illegible] which will be held in the [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

THE MARDI GRAS CARNIVAL of the Verein Eintracht, to be held here in Portland, Oregon, on the 22d of this month (Washington's birthday) promises to be the grandest and most brilliant affair ever witnessed here, the pompousness of which never was equaled in the annals of this city. The Mardi Gras procession will consist of a great number of boys and girls representing the history of America, commencing with Columbus, the great navigator, Cabot, the landing of the Pilgrim fathers, the year of liberty, with Washington and Uncle Sam with Goddess of Liberty, the period of slavery followed by cosmopolitan humorous groups, and the era of equestrian feats on foot and horseback. The grand dance guard, a gigantic procession will be composed of Mexican vaqueros followed by the finest military band of this coast, then comes the "Jewel Gems" followed by the Mardi Gras pageant, Lord Rex, with his majesty King Carnival and their fair Queen. Carnival surrounded by a vast multitude of horsequins on horseback. The grand masquerade ball will take place in the evening at the Mystic pavilion, where also a number of amusing and entertaining tableaux of the Mardi Gras will be produced.

THE COURSE OF TRUE LOVE IT.—Oregon's marriage law is not only productive of happiness and posterity, but sometimes of serious annoyance to would be contract or justice. A young man arrived in the city from the East yesterday and by appointment met his lady love, who had come from San Francisco expecting to have the nuptial knot tied in Portland. To honor bound the twain took their cheerful way to the county clerk's office to procure the customary license. Alas for human hopes. Behold Egbert were both strangers to everybody in Portland. Nobody knew the young lady's age, and could not understand the touch for her hand, 19 years old, however great their sympathy with it expressed. If she had been old and ugly some one might have taken the chances of forgiving him all. This nothing the matter, and took their departure, wiser but no happier. There are few things at which love does not laugh, however, and readers of "Crissy" can finish the story for themselves.

HOW BABY HAS BEEN ADOPTED.—The little waif of humanity whose frail bark was launched upon the troubled waters of public life by being left in a hallway at Mrs. Trogaskis's lodging house last Thursday, has found a good home. Mrs. Trogaskis wishes to say to the many callers that the baby has been adopted by an estimable gentleman and his wife who have lately lost a baby boy of about the same age. No clue has been discovered to the parentage of the child, even Mrs. Trogaskis not knowing whether male or female. She is still willing, however, to furnish any information that is possible, and will be pleased to hear from the mother, if she is still alive, to know the rough treatment that is meted out to her offspring. Mrs. Trogaskis feels good to her feelings in the world although she has been put to considerable trouble and expense in the matter, and is confident she will be able to save the foot.

PITCHED FROM A TRESTLE

One of the P. & W. V. Railway Coaches Turns a Complete Somersault—Several Persons Injured.

An accident happened on the P. & W. V. railway yesterday afternoon near Middleton, by which a passenger coach was thrown from the track and four persons injured, none of them, it is thought, seriously. At about 5 P. M. as the train for this city was rounding a sharp curve on a trestle, one of the fish plates broke, allowing the end of a rail to spring out, and a piece was broken off. The baggage car and the first coach passed over the place all right, but the rear coach was thrown from the track, breaking the link which connected it and landing right side up at the foot of the trestle.

Superintendent McGuire who was on the platform of the car when it saw the car leave the track and the brake man on it leap to the car in front. He gave the alarm and the train was stopped before it had gone more than a few feet. The four passengers in the derailed car were at once transferred to the forward train and on to this city arriving at 6 o'clock only thirty minutes behind time.

Dr. A. C. Panton and C. Strong were in waiting with carriages, which had been telegraphed for.

Three of the injured persons were taken to the Good Samaritan hospital where their injuries were attended to by Dr. Panton, while the other, Mrs. Charles Ray, was conveyed to the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Short, No. 8 M. street, where she was attended by Dr. Strong. She was found to be injured in the spine. Little is said by the physicians as to the extent of her injuries, but it is feared they are quite serious, which will cause much suffering.

The conductor, Mr. Sylvanus P. S. Burrel, a popular Democrat, escaped with a cut on the scalp which is not serious. He will go home to-day. Baggage Master B. Cook, Engineer Wilkie and Fireman Hetherington escaped without injury. The latter, however, received a severe shaking up, but soon recovered. The engine is a total wreck and his condition is not considered serious by surgeons.

F. A. Willey of Dayton, Or., was taken from the wreck to the hospital, where he has a cot on the floor, which is not serious. He will go home to-day. Baggage Master B. NEW PARK THEATER.

"East Lynne" Produced Last Night by the Barrett and Gleason Dramatic Company.

The Barrett and Gleason Dramatic Company played the fun Ellor drama "East Lynne" last night to a house double in numbers of that with which they opened. Several of the characterizations in Ably that of Archibald Carlyle by E. J. Barrett, Richard Hare by Miss Ida Mulhall and Francis Levison by Mr. H. La Bidley were quite cleverly done.

Miss Carry Carlyle as Mamie Axtell would have been much more acceptable had it not been so overdone.

Miss Belle Gaffney as Lady Isabel was a very creditable piece of dramatic work and if she will regulate her emotional work a little on the first night her success would be more pronounced.

To night "The Lady of Lyons."

THE LAWS DELAY.

The current number of the Century has a timely and very able article in denunciation of the law's delay in America compared with the prompt action in England. In England the whole case is tried in January and the course of appeal over by the middle of February. In the English courts legal impudence offers no tale the place of law is summarily upset by the judge and hear splitting technical objections to the swift march of justice treated with contempt as hostile to the security of substantial justice swiftly rendered. Of the disgusting and demoralizing delays which public justice suffers in the United States in the name of law, the Century writer says:

> The knave has always sought to pose as an honest citizen crying for the protection of the law, knowing that a careful selection of his formula and a diligent use of its many technicalities will enable him to plead guilty, and the public shall have forgotten the matter. The criminal lawyer has a free field in the American court's wrangle for the points that he has in the record, of law or evidence. The rich defendant who can afford to pay the shrewd counsel will set at nought the sentence of a police judge, a justice of the peace, or a court of original jurisdiction, by taking an appeal to a higher court, and then dropping him again to the low record to begin the struggle over again.

What the people want is a less complicated system of judicial machinery, giving them "less law and more equity." The worst consequence of the law's delay is that it is a fertile breeder of mob violence and lynch law in young states. It is said that a corporation has small chance of justice before a country jury. If this be true, it is largely due to the fact that the jury have probably proved the power of a rich corporation to keep a poor farmer's suit against it in the courts until his purse is exhausted, and this farmer and his neighbors naturally enough are bitterly prejudiced against the corporation that is able by technical delays to make justice worthless to him when he gets it. There is a great railway corporation in New England that has not hesitated to "spirit" off to California for the winter a very important witness in a very important trial and the poor people who are suing the corporation for damages are thus put off another year from final settlement. This was done deliberately to force the poor plaintiffs to settle for a song with the corporation. Is it at all remarkable that this corporation hereafter will get small mercy at the hands of a jury in that state? The poor suitor feels that he does not get a fair show in the court against the corporation not because the judge is corrupt but because the judicial machinery seems to be devised by cunning lawyers for the very purpose of perpetuating litigation. The poor farmer says there is no such thing as swift justice for him. The rich corporation feels the courts are on some technical plea to grant a delay or a new trial until he is forced to pay a just claim, and coming up for trial in this or that state farmer will be sure to catch the corporation by a technicality and drag it out of the corporation's chosen court with the intimation that the delay is due to the influence of the corporation. The result is that the corporation has come to look upon the courts as a means of delay, and the people look upon the courts as a means of justice. Both have come to look upon the law's delay as a means of injustice. Both are wrong, but their character for the time being is due to the law's delay. A lawyer like John Marshall, Alexander Hamilton or Daniel Webster is the product of a great statesman, but a statesman never arose who was not a lawyer. The general opinion of the common will equally to any new political situation so that the people may have the power of the law in the hands of the lawyers. This is the reason why the state of the law is not more serious to the people, who are anxious to apply and practice it, in order to shield the people with judicial system of the law's delays and doubts, instead of having a plain, simple and speedy justice that can be depended upon.

This article goes on to point out how in England the people are protected by passing a cloud of witnesses to the unfortunate and friendless prisoner. In England only those who can afford to pay for counsel are allowed to employ them, and the judge is required to act as counsel for the prisoner. He sees that the prisoner has a fair trial, and that the jury are not misled by the counsel for the prosecution. The result is that the English courts are the most expeditious in the world, and the people have confidence in them. There were twenty murders committed in London last year, and twenty murderers were in jail the next day, the criminal lawyer being little better than a bond of jury fixer; the judges of the lower courts are the creatures of political bosses, and the criminal laws to break down, and these disgraceful riots were the fearful crop of private justice that had been early cultivated by the courts and wrote its protest by the flight of a burning court-house and in the blood of a murderer that had long over-ruled the law his life.

What the people want is a correct code of equity and procedure, simple questions of equity can be speedily and finally settled, and where crimes against persons or property can be promptly punished. The people demand certain swift punishment for crime, and when they are led to suspect the administration of the ordinary legal machinery to compel justice they are not disposed to make a matter of self-interest to leave the assassin seized red-handed to the slow and uncertain treatment of the courts.

The responsibility for such law in northern communities belongs in a large part, says this writer, to the lawyer to the detriment of the state. To all of these the members of which argument with the jury and avoid a mistrial is not sufficient effort to secure to it that their client—the people which is the first principle of law reform." The truth is that lawyers, as a class, are permitted to do as they please in the courts, and are controlled by their character or the want of it

THE WATER COMMITTEE.

The Members of That Body Hold a Regular Meeting Yesterday Afternoon.

No Very Important Business Transacted—Various Matters Considered—Sale of Bonds—Report—Estimates—System Extended.

A regular meeting of the water committee was held yesterday afternoon at the parlors of Ladd & Tilton's bank, President Henry Failing in the chair, and Messrs H W Corbett, W S Ladd, F Dekum, W K Smith, J Loewenberg, A H Johnson, T M Richardson and F C Smith, present.

WATER PIPE FOR SALE.

A communication from Mr A N King was read offering to sell to the committee a four inch water pipe owned by him, for what it would cost to put down a similar one.

Superintendent Smith reported that the pipe could be easily attached to the city mains, but the value of the pipe could only be told after it had been examined.

Mr Ladd said that perhaps the pipe would not stand the pressure from the city mains and on his motion the communication was laid on the table till this could be ascertained.

CHANGING THE PIPE LINE

The sub committee submitted a report in regard to changing the route of the pipe line from Bull run, stating that they had ordered a survey of the proposed route by which it was claimed that a large saving in the cost of construction could be made.

The report was ordered placed on file and the action of the sub-committee in ordering the survey approved.

ASK NO FOR A NEW MAIN

A petition from tax payers in Johnson's addition was received asking that a main be laid up in that section where they can reach it.

Superintendent Smith reported that the mains asked for could be laid down without great expense and it was thought that if he had the funds he could lay the mains before the spring rains. Doubted the ability of the funds for the work on motion of Mr Ladd the petition was laid on the table for the present.

BONDS AND COUPONS

The clerk Mr Lownsdale presented coupons cut off the $100,000 worth of bonds recently sold for accounting two years' interest, and asked what should be done with them.

After a short discussion on motion of Mr Ladd, the chairman and clerk were ordered to cancel them and preserve them.

Mr Schuyler reported that he had receive the money from the sale of $100,000 in bonds amounting to $103,308 20 and had deposited it with the treasurer.

BILLS ORDERED PAID

Oregon Iron & Steel Co for pipe in Jan	$1,771 10
R Collier & Co	36 38
For laying new pipe	4,919 06

ON THE CITY'S PROPERTY

In regard to the statement of Mr Ellyson that the stand pipe at Palatine hill was on his ground, Superintendent Smith reported that he had a plat of the premises which showed that the pipe was on the city's property In order to fully settle the matter, he had ordered the county surveyor to survey and make a plat of the grounds which was not yet completed. Laid on the table.

ESTIMATE SUBMITTED.

Superintendent Smith submitted an estimate of the cost of two miles of twelve inch pipe along Front Street from Lincoln to S street, which he placed at $2400 Laid on the table

RIGHT OF WAY ASKED

A communication from Mr William Reid was read, asking that the public be allowed the use of the wagon road through the grounds at Palatine hill to reach a station of the F & W V railway which he proposes to erect there In answer to a petition from residents in that vicinity

Some doubt was expressed as to whether the right of way included the right to erect buildings It was however, conceded that the station might be a convenience if not located where it would interfere with the storage of wood, and the matter was referred to Superintendent Smith to obtain information as to the exact location of the proposed station building

MONTHLY REPORT

The sub-committee presented the monthly report of the operating department for January as follows

Total earnings	$10 789 95
Total disbursements	1 810 69

SYSTEM OF WATER PIPES.

Chairman Failing stated that the city's system of water pipes now extended for over five miles north and south, and as there were a great many applications for tapping, a new tapping machine has been ordered and it was likely that a new crew to operate it would soon have to be employed. When the city limits and the water works there were twenty four and one half miles of distributing pipe, besides the big wrought iron main Which the laying of the pipe now ordered was completed there would be fifty-one miles of distributing pipe

The committee appointed to examine into the advisability of selling the old reservoir property on Fourth street were given further time to investigate the matter Adjourned.

REASON TOTTERS FROM HER THRONE.

Two More Unfortunates Adjudged Insane and Committed to the Asylum

Among those cases where a man's doubtful and varying status is a long the border line of insanity known as that out of the asylum eternally is that of Hermann Von Borstel husband of the Mrs Elizabeth Von Borstel of the Revere house, at least if the statement of the complaint is to be believed which says he has been twice confined in an asylum in Germany

Hermann is decidedly of the opinion that he is not insane at all but charges that there is a man in the case who has been influencing his wife to take the steps He says he has been the victim of the same persecution before Mr Von Borstel has been at the jail since Saturday night He has been assisting his wife in running the restaurant The complaint upon which Judge Caitlin based the commitment papers, is signed by S W Rice and asserts that Von Borstel is unusually jealous of his wife and has her exceedingly extravagant in his purchases and inclinations to attend her He was taken to Salem yesterday afternoon

CASE OF WILLIAM GUSHURST

William Gushurst was yesterday afternoon adjudged insane by Judge Caitlin and removed to the insane asylum at Salem One Burns is the man who ordered his coffin at the morgue several days ago stating that he had departed from this mundane sphere the day before The day following this strange conduct, Gushurst appeared to be perfectly rational and it was then thought that he had been making these absurd statements while under the influence of liquor For the purpose of allowing him to completely sober up, he had been kept in the city jail Yesterday and the day before, Gushurst had violent spells and it became necessary to make further investigation as to his mental condition The judge gave it as his opinion that his insanity is due to continued excessive drinking and that he will come out all right after several weeks abstinence and rest.

BELIEVED TO BE MENTALLY WEAK

The Friends of Tripler Think That the Prisoner Is of Unsound Mind

Another continuance was yesterday allowed in the case of Charles Stuart Tripler arrested at our vals for forgery committed in this city.

The impression is gaining ground that Tripler is out of his right mind and that he was in the same condition when he committed the forgery A number of those among his friends and other callers day and all concur in this general opinion

Notwithstanding this belief, however the grand jury took hold of the case yesterday morning, and it is the intention of District Attorney McGinn to prosecute Tripler if a true bill is found against him The jury will in all probability make a report this morning but until its findings are received it cannot be known what future steps are to be taken Friends of the unfortunate man are still confident that they will be able to secure his release upon payment of the money obtained on the fraudulent check

As the injured party (the man who paid the money on the check) has shown no disposition to prosecute in the case his friends are very sure on that the case he finally sealed Their natural mainfested by his friends is that they say on account of his military record and his previous upright character generally as well as of his family connections but because the limits he will at the present time is of unsound mind and should be sent to an asylum

THE CITIZEN SOLDIERY OF OREGON

What the Quartermaster of the Second Regiment Says More Aid Needed.

W N Ladue the quartermaster of the Second regiment was seen yesterday by a reporter at the Esmond and was briefly interviewed in reference to the military outlook He said:

My opinion is that the organization in Portland as in the other conditions as any in the Western or Middle states The need of militiamen has been proved on the plains necessarily, and the days has been when the presence of citizen-soldiery has obviated a riot in this valley The turn of the Chinese riot is still fresh in the minds of many in Portland, and at that time there evidently would have been an outbreak in Salem, had there not been armed and alert troops waiting to do their duty I hear that Colonel Beebe is making an excellent commander and great credit is due him for the present proficiency of the regiment.

The regiment is doing finely, but it does not seem to be getting the support it should from the citizens.

If it possible. Why! I wish they knew the old our old Michigan regiments receive from their states And that does not compare with what the New England states countenance their militia There ought to be 1000 persons in Portland paying to the First regiment $10 a year, each thereby creating a fund to be loaned out on gross sales, which in turn would give the company rooms. The Napoleon Guards [illegible] organization to pattern after. Those men,

A decree was issued yesterday by Judge Stearns granting Harriet A Newman from her husband I L Newman to whom she was married in Illinois town, February 22 1882 She testified to the cruel treatment she received at the hands of her husband his neglect to support her and his questionable character Witness in her behalf identified letters written by her husband, which fully supported that Mrs Newman's testimony Her self-reliance and her ability to watch after her health and her husband's inability to watch after her wants The plaintiff is a handsome and very modest woman while testifying, and was excused from the main body of the court room
